

Did anybody ever think an egg?

Do nests have style?

Is there a thoughtless house?

Who made the first dwelling?

Is a home a living place?

When is a house a home?

These works are wilted ruins, sprouting towers, body rock plant hills, stumps, smears, buds and floral sprays.

They are living places.

— Charles Simonds